Borough Nine Gets Revenge On Manoa

Graham Wins His Ninth Game and Reverses Previous Decision.

FLECK STILL ON STREAK

By John Uberti.

Those Narberth champions seem to derive considerable enjoyment in toying with an opponent, just keeping a ruff in front and teasing the adversary by maintaining the slim edge till the close of activities in their march to victory. This time it was the Manoa Club on whom the champions reversed the narrow decision of the previous engagement played at Manoa field when Stew Harkness' hard-hitting nine eked out a fine 3-2 victory over them. The score of this game Monday was 6-5, giving Manoa their seventh defeat of the season against thirty-three wins.

Manager Davis had an earnest motive in sending Howard Graham to oppose Lemon on the peak in this game for the champions' modest pilot felt that two vindications would be more glorious than merely one. Graham was Tabbutt's adversary in the first game played away when he lost his seventh game of the season. In this fray, however, the revenge of his previous setback boosted his pitching record to nine wins out of sixteen games in which he has performed this year.

This contest also marked Narberth's thirtieth independent game of the season, of which twenty-one were victories.

In spite of the evenness of the whole affair, the hitting for this game was quite voluminous and a colossal factor in capturing the game. Narberth out-hit the Manoa boys fifteen hits to

Stalled Beer Truck at Villanova Leads to Arrest of Former Ursinus Athlete

A truck laden with beer, stalled on Montgomery Avenue, Villanova, early Monday morning, and the solicitous actions of a motorist acting as a convoy led to the arrest of two Pottstown men by Lower Merion police.

The beer, according to the driver of the truck, who gave his name as George S. Bleim, Pottstown, was consigned to the Bryn Mawr Lodge of Moose. Bleim and the convoying motorist, Earl Potteiger, also of Pottstown, a former college and professional athlete, were released under $2500 bail by Magistrate C. Howard Meredith, before whom they were arraigned by Lieutenant Duke and Officer Love. The driver, Bleim, was charged with illegal possession and transportation of

Visit Borough Library

The Narberth Community Library was both honored and assisted by the recent visit of the summer library class from Temple University under the direction of Miss Bessie Graham. Such visits are made as a part of the course in order to familiarize the students with the different methods used in different sorts of libraries. It is a compliment to Narberth to be chosen as representative of its class. By way of practice work, the students accessioned and cataloged about one hundred volumes for the library, thus relieving Miss Church of several days' work.

Varied Program For 'Play Day' Wednesday

Folk Dancing, Competitive
Games, Awarding of Prizes
At Playground.

STITES TO GIVE TALK

Next Wednesday, August 27, has been designated as "Play Day" at the Narberth Community Playground. A program, to which all parents and others interested are invited, consisting of folk dances, a dramatized story, competitive activities and a talk by the Hon. Fletcher W. Stites, has been arranged.

The program will open with folk dancing by girls from both playgrounds which will be followed by a dramatized story by children from both playgrounds under the direction of a teacher from the Interstate Dairy Council of Philadelphia.

At 2:30 competitive activities will commence. The Narberth Playground team will play the Philadelphia Playground champions in baseball, while the playground tennis team will engage the Bryn Mawr playground court team. Each playground has won one match to date so this playoff promises plenty of action. Teams are also being secured to play the girls' volleyball

Muschamp Speaks to Local Rotarians

Narberth Author Tells of Difficulty of Writing a Biography.

AUDUBON'S LIFE IS TOPIC

E. A. Muschamp, of Narberth, author and newspaperman, was the speaker Tuesday at the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club. His topic, "Audacious Audubon," dealt with the speaker's recent biography of the eminent naturalist and artist.

"Montgomery County should be proud of Audubon," Mr. Muschamp said, "for it was here that he made his home for a time; it was here he worked and painted, and it was a Montgomery County girl whom he married—and whose help played a big part in his success."

Audubon's home was on the Perkio-men, near Betzwood, and is now owned by the Wetherill family. Here the great naturalist made his first experiments in bird-banding as part of his work. He was a cosmopolitan, however, and a world-traveler. Many parts of the United States claim him as a resident.

The difficulties and labors of writing a biography were brought out by the speaker in an interesting and at times amusing fashion. The urge to write this book, he said, came from a sight of Audubon's collection of giant paintings in the Academy of Natural Sciences, Philadelphia. Delving into biographies revealed a lack of many details, and Mr. Muschamp decided to write a book of his own.

An outline was prepared and a publishing contract secured. Then followed hours of delving into libraries, newspaper files, etc., for information—interviews with historians and naturalists, reading of Audubon's own work.

Beach Haven, With Masters, Beats Narberth in Eleventh

Walter Masters, University of Pennsylvania football and baseball star, pitted against Babb, displayed one of the best pitchers' battles seen at the shore resort's diamond this season when Manager Stratton's Beach Haven Club nosed out Narberth on Sunday after eleven innings, 4 to 3.

Stonik hit a homer in the eighth inning and tied up the game. In the eleventh Parker singled to right, Elwell lifted a safe blow to left-field, Galen bunted and was caught at first. Sprague was sent in to hit for Davis and singled, winning the game.

The hitting of Stonik and Babb led the attack for their respective clubs. About fifty Narberth residents made the trip to cheer on their team.

The finals are being played today at Friends' Select School grounds, Sixteenth and Cherry Streets, Philadelphia.

On Monday over 150 children were taken to Shibe Park to see the Athletics win from St. Louis in a very exciting game. George Essenger was lucky enough to secure one of the balls fouled into the stands and proudly displayed Al Simmons' autograph on the ball.

The Recreation Board wishes to thank those who so kindly donated the use of their cars and truck and made it possible for the children to make the trip.

The adult tennis tournament postponed from last Friday on account of rain will open this Friday at 6 P. M. Thirty-four are entered in men's and women's singles and about sixteen in the doubles.

Volleyball is very popular at present. When there is not a league game going on there is always a pickup game.

The finals in the golf tournament were reached Wednesday afternoon before the rain began, and one match remains to be played to determine the winner between Rita McKeon, Joe Witte and Tom Donahue. Witte has the honor of being the only participant to make a hole in one on the playground course. This occurred in a preliminary match on the second hole between Case and Smith.

Others entered in the tournament: Drew Danbert, Richard Griffiths, Richardson, Fittipoldi, Ely, Alice Callahan, Gertrude Holland, Jimmie Gallagher, Harndeen, Foersterling, Senn, Smith, Long, Case, Robert Wilmot, Agnes Torchiana, Muriel Dougherty, Marguerite Rittenhouse, Billy Wentz, Freda Roesler, Albert Costello and Albert Sylvester.

Up until Wednesday afternoon there have been a total of 8094 children in attendance at both playgrounds, or an average of 207 children per day. A mark of 1000 for the summer is anticipated.

Slow Driver Termed Menace by Auto Club

"Contrary to popular belief, the slow driver on the open highway is a greater menace to safety than the motorist who drives along at a speed warranted by the condition of the road and the volume of traffic."

That is the opinion of the Keystone Automobile Club, which points to the hazard created for other drivers by slow-moving vehicles, particularly at peak traffic periods on Saturdays and Sundays.

"Many drivers seem to think they are playing it safe by creeping along the highways at a 15-to-20-mile rate," says Joseph R. Murphy, manager of the Ardmore office of the club. "As a matter of fact, they are making a contribution to accidents comparable to that of the reckless speedster."

"Most motorists have a destination, and feel they have a right to get there in reasonable time. Pennsylvania and New Jersey permit a maximum speed of forty miles an hour on the open road."

FORE AND AFT

Although the Hedgerow Theatre players have been previously invited to create productions outside of their own Rose Valley theatre they are availing themselves of this opportunity for the first time at Alexander Kirkland's Berkshire Playhouse in Stockbridge, Mass. Jasper Deeter and Wayland Rudd will play Smithers and the Emperor Jones, respectively, in a production of O'Neill's "The Emperor Jones," which Mr. Deeter will direct for Kirkland with Elenore Abbott's scenic visualizations as a panoramic background. Work at the Hedgerow Theatre, however, will continue as usual with a particularly varied program for the week.

The play for Tuesday evening, August 26, will be "The Romantic Age," A. A. Milne's pungent little comedy of a young girl who dreams of life with a prince charming in a medieval barony and discovers that her prince charming is, in reality, a bond salesman. In the Hedgerow cast Frances Torchiana will play the dream motivated "Melisande" and Ferd Nofer will have the role of the lover, "Gervase Mallory." On Wednesday Ibsen's profound study in lost individualities, "When We Dead Awake," will be given again with Gretchen Anton-Smith as Irene and Alfred Rowe as Professor Rubek. Thursday night's play is the sensitive "Martine," by Jean Jacques Bernard, with Frances Torchiana again in the leading role.

Friday evening will mark the second performance of Donald Corley's play, "Limelight," which will be given its premiere tomorrow night with Kay Roma as Nicolette. "The Playboy of the Western World" will be given next Saturday evening. This play has proved to be one of the most successful comedies of the repertory and will be repeated with the same cast that will be seen in the play tonight at Hedgerow.

Brookline Game Ends in Impasse At 5 All

By John Uberti.

The intervening hand of dusk in the seventh inning of the game with the Brookline Club on Tuesday evening at the Brookline Square Club field resulted in the calling of the contest with both clubs tied at four-all.

This was the first time since July of 1929 that Narberth permanently ended hostilities with an opponent in a tie. On July 24 of last season Narberth and the Main Line Tigers went into a 5-5 tie in the eighth and final inning of the game when Ray Young's home run with two men on base elevated the score after trailing 5-2 since the beginning of the game.

Joe McEntee was motioned towards the pitcher's box by Manager Davis, where he went through a stormy session for the boroughites. McEntee showed every sign of his long absence from a mound, but for a first baseman he did fairly well. The Brookline Club outlived the Davismen eight to six in this even conflict, which was featured by a continued relinquishing of the lead which both teams had the fortune of holding at different times.

Due to sheer luck in the last inning, as darkness towered about the field, Narberth managed to send in a run which sent the scoring into a deadlock while nary a bingle aided in the scoring of the tying tally. A passed ball made possible by the unpenetrable ebon of the night developed into the scoring of the run which evened the count for the clubs.

Phil Logan, the lad whom the Chicago Cubs have signed up for the 1931 season, clouted a violent drive over Fleck's reach in left-field in the first inning for a home run to offset Narberth's two-run lead of the home half of the same frame.

Brookline tied the score by counting once in the fourth and better by one the champions' one-run spurt in the sixth when McEntee came home off Townsend's single to centre-field.

What Price Independence?

Narberth prides itself, and rightly we feel, on its community solidarity. There is a unity and community spirit in the borough which it is hard to find in other Main Line towns. While some of the old neighborliness has disappeared due to the growth of population, a spirit of co-operation exists which has manifested itself on many occasions.

It is just as well to consider, however, whether or not we Narberth residents are paying too high a price for our independence. Some interesting figures were presented at the meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd Rotary Club last week by Lower Merion's treasurer, Peter C. Hess. Lower Merion's total rate for school, township and county taxes, he stated, is 29 mills as compared to Narberth's 43 mills. This means that on a hundred dollars of taxes a Lower Merion resident would pay $29 to a Narberth resident's $43. The comparison with the borough was not the only one drawn, many other nearby townships being cited, each with a rate higher than Lower Merion.

In considering the difference in tax rates, one must also take into consideration the total of services rendered by each municipality. Narberth residents have a distinct advantage on at least two counts. In the first place there is free collection of rubbish and ashes by borough authorities for which service township residents must pay. In the second fire insurance rates are lower in Narberth than in any other town on the Main Line, due to the efficiency of the Narberth Fire Company and to the fact that they have complied with all suggestions of the Philadelphia Suburban Underwriters. The Fire Company receives an annual appropriation from the Borough Council.

In several respects the township's facilities are used by the borough. A large sum of the School Board's tax duplicate is passed along to Lower Merion to pay the tuition of Narberth students at the Lower Merion Junior and Senior High School. The police force, while under the jurisdiction of Council and the Burgess, is composed of men from the Lower Merion force. The Narberth Board of Health utilizes the services of the Lower Merion Board in the matter of milk, water and ice cream inspections. Payment is made to the township for each of these services which investigation found would be cheaper than to set up independent machinery in every department.

We are not holding a brief for annexation of the borough by Lower Merion. There are too many things to be considered both for and against to jump to any such conclusion. We are merely trying to present some facts as we see them.

A considerable share of Narberth's tax money goes to pay off the interest and principal of its bonded indebtedness. Lower Merion's debt is comparatively small, much smaller in proportion than the borough's. On the other hand, Narberth's "Plant," its physical equipment of streets, sewers, etc., is all built and the maintenance charges are small. The township is faced with the expense of building roads and sewers in still undeveloped sections for years to come which will eat up a large share of tax money. There has been agitation in Merion to set up a borough in the last year or two based on this very point, that the people object to having their money used to develop some far-off section of the township.

This seems to be one of the main points in such a consideration, whether things are done better by a small unit of government or by a large one. In the recent airing of the question of annexation of the suburbs by the city of Philadelphia, the view was stated by a Lower Merion commissioner that the further you go in the decentralization of local government the better government you have. If that logic applies to Lower Merion in connection with the city, it also holds for Narberth in relation to the township.

This matter of unequal tax rates may adjust itself if within the next few years the Narberth Borough Council makes tax rate reductions similar to those it has effected during the past four years. But what if they don't, and how about it in the meantime, you say. Well, let's hear your views!

Won't H. L. Mencken sound swell asking to get out at night?

JESS—IN FUN

The peculiar taste of much of our bootleg booze is at last explained. It appears that much of the stuff has been brought in on the New York City garbage scows. Of course, now that the news has had adequate publicity, the scows will have to cease carrying the stuff. The procedure is really rather unsanitary. And besides, the Federal authorities object strenuously to the carrying of alcoholic beverages by scows chartered only for the carrying of garbage. There is really quite a material difference between the two objects, even though quite frequently one would imagine that their chemical composition is similar. I believe that under the latest rules and regulations a barge must have a duly authenticated rum-running permit in order to carry liquor without molestation.

During the investigation of the presence of liquor on the garbage scows many interesting facts came to light. At the time when the liquor mysteriously came aboard the scow, the captain was indulging in a slight snooze below decks. The mate had been engaged in the religious centre of the scow zealously studying the Bible lesson for next Sunday. Half of the crew had been so deeply submerged in prayer and meditation that it did not see the liquor come walking aboard. The rest of the crew saw men bringing packages on board, but rather imagined that the packages contained a new supply of Bibles for the Gideon Society. They identified most, if not all, of their visitors as Lon Chaney. No one has even yet analyzed the generous impulses which prompted the rum-runners to cache their valuable cargo aboard the garbage scow. No money changed hands. No promises were exchanged. In a fit of extreme generosity, rum-runners of unknown identity had presented the city of New York with a cargo of alcoholic liquors whose value ran into tens of thousands of dollars of anybody's money. The donors even preferred to remain anonymous. There is, it seems, a Santa Claus. Or several of them.

It was strange that the only time that this urge to play Santy to the municipal boys came upon the rum-running clan, the coast guard should choose to intervene and examine the scow. By some strange coincidence, the only garbage scow which had ever carried a drop of alcohol fell into the hands of Uncle Sam's energetic seamen. Uncle Sam has already confiscated the drinks, and he is thinking of keeping the scow. For what purpose, no one seems to know. Anyway, official throats in municipal circles around New York, which is a small town about a hundred miles from Philadelphia, are possibly a bit dryer than usual. And "an exhaustive investigation will go to the bottom of the matter." That is the trouble with all "exhaustive investigations." They always go to the bottom of matters. And they never bother the "higher-ups" the least bit.

There is already in evidence a Smith-for-President move. It should be discouraged. I supported him once, and I shan't do it again. I never could see the sense of proving that one can take punishment. Bryan did it. Sir Thomas Lipton is doing it. But there's no reason why Al Smith should do it. People laughed at Bryan, they are laughing at Sir Thomas and possibly they will in the future laugh at Al. But they won't laugh at me. I won't vote for Smith. And I won't vote for Hoover unless he hurries up my portion of the proposed and promised Republican prosperity. I am thinking seriously of voting for the candidate of the prohibition party. I am beginning to think that this country should try prohibition for a while.

Narberth Swamps City Foe in Series Final

Beat Gregorian Club, 10-2, On Latter's Grounds Last Thursday.

GRAHAM WINS EIGHTH

By John Uberti.

In the fourth and final game of the series, the Narberth Club reverted to earnest hitting and sent the Gregorian Catholic Club down to their most decisive defeat of the series on the latter's home grounds last Thursday as they bunched eleven hits to score ten runs against two of the Philadelphians.

The triumph enabled Howard Graham to chalk up his eighth win of the season to better by one his long string of seven defeats sustained to date. In turn, Campbell and Cy Gantz, of the Quakers, were shelled unceasingly for the grand sum of eleven colossal swipes, which gave the Main Line champions the most decisive victory of the four-game series with the Gregorian Club.

The Narberth boys took the first three games by the close scores of 1-2, 3-2 and 5-4, all of which were featured by considerably light hitting and replete with tenseness on the hill. The final encounter, on the other hand, was marked by prodigious clouting and was a typical manner of bidding adieu to their unfortunate city friends.

In the five innings which he served, Graham retired the side in order on four occasions, but in the first frame six men appeared before him to take two runs for their only scoring of the game.

Campbell was charged with the defeat for the Philadelphia nine as the runs that proved to be overwhelming and unsurpassable during the remainder of the contest were garnered at his expense. According to the rules of the game, a pitcher must serve at least five innings before he can officially be considered a participant of that contest. This, however, bears the one exception, as was the case in this game, as the five hits procured off him in the first inning which the Davismen coined into five runs were sufficient to win the fray even had the champions not scored thereafter. Nevertheless, they also went after Cy Gantz for five hits and as many tallies before the one-sided game came to a halt.

Gantz found a little solace from the fact that, in defeat, he bettered Graham's ability as a strikeout artist. During this five-inning game Cy fanned seven of the boroughites, while only four fell beneath the heavens of Graham.

The Narberth champions had the game won in the very first inning when they assailed Campbell for five runs off as many bingles. The first five men up hit successively while the fifth was retired on an outfield fly. A fifth nick sent in the fifth tally of the inning and then Campbell was taken from the game in lieu of Gantz. One more hit was made off him, but that was sufficient for one inning and the pachyderms then alternated afield.

Rubincam scored a run in the third off Graham's double to right-field and only three hits turned in four in the finale, which was featured by three passes and a trio of singles.

A triple by Walsh in the foreign half of the opener gave the Gregorians their own two runs as a single by Lordy and admittance to base by a wild delivery on the part of J. Connell developed in the scoring of two runs for the foemen.

Bryn Mawr Nine Beats Narberth, 7-5

Brilliant Fielding Big Factor in Victory Over First-Half Champions.

BORO'S TITLE HOPES DIM

By John Uberti.

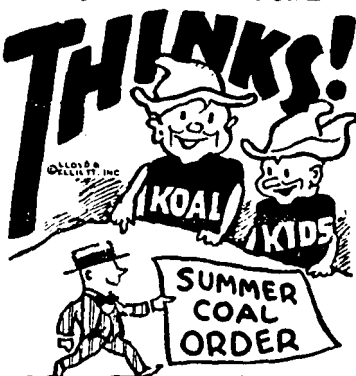

A new force in Main Line League baseball was sensed by Narberth in Saturday's game, when Bryn Mawr, newly-inaugurated club into the second-half series, handed the league champions the fourth league setback of the current series to further beloud the situation for Narberth in the race for the title.

Subject to loose fielding at times, the Bryn Mawr nine held a slight edge over Narberth at the start, but towards the end of the contest they became enveloped with dazzling vivacity as they strengthened considerably on the defense, continually baffling the Narberth lads. Keen executions of twin killings by the doubleplay twins, Reid and Jimmy Faulk, always jilted the boroughites of many bids for a hit.

With five more games to be played in the league, and four clubs vying hard for the lead, Narberth has a very slight chance of making much progress in the second half. Narberth has lost four out of five league debuts during the second half, and won only seven out of fourteen contests for the whole year.

second base and inability to connect with the puzzling speed of Lyons was another cause of the poor showing of the Davismen.

The game had all the indications of another pitchers' battle to be featured by close scoring. This was true up until the fifth session when Narberth coined a run to tie the visitors' tally made possible by a high heave on the part of Joe McEntee from first base.

The sixth became the climatic point of the show for it was in this inning that the challengers actually captured the tilt. Lyons was found accessible for six hits, while eight blows fell off the maces of the Bryn Mawrites. Vernie Fleck had the most of the few hits made among the Narberth boys and was thus enabled to continue on his consecutive hitting spree by extending his hitting mark to twenty-eight games for the year. Two singles, one a scratch hit, gave the veteran a .500 mark. Bill Reynolds also hit at that pace, but was credited with only two official appearances from which he tabbed a single that scored a point in the sixth frame.

Narberth's two counters in the sixth and seventh was a feeble rally which ended two runs behind the visitors. A single by Reynolds in the sixth gave the champions their first tally of the inning when Rubincam scored, followed by Thomas, who profited by Lyon's overthrow to head him in the fervid attempt to head him off. Burns started the seventh off by walking, and Fleck singled. McEntee, slapping a tiny infield bingle and the bags were loaded. Humphries' blow was also feeble and Lyons relayed to the plate to force Burns. Yowell then forced the veteran, Gazella to Faulk, and Rubincam singled to right-field, but the side went out on Thomas' rap to Lyons, who passed the ball to first.

His shadow weaves
A web of shadow, strand on strand
Of darkness, spun

Curiously from nothingness

Behind her on the sunny wall
And no less fair
The shadow shapes of leaf and bloom

Are strangely stirred
By winds without a shadow

Where spiders never stabbed with

2,000,000 Chevrolet Sixes now on the road

Since January, 1929, Chevrolet has produced and sold over 2,000,000 six-cylinder automobiles—nearly five times as many as any other manufacturer has ever built in an equal length of time.

These 2,000,000 buyers have chosen Chevrolet because it offers many desirable qualities not obtainable in any other car so low in price—

—the smoothness, silence and flexibility of a modern six-cylinder engine—the comfort and roadability of a modern, full-length chassis—and the style, safety and distinction of bodies by Fisher.

Yet, despite these fine car advantages, the Chevrolet Six is unusually economical. Its gas, oil, tire and upkeep economy is unsurpassed. And

SIX-CYLINDER SMOOTHNESS AT LOW COST

Lower Merion Enjoys Lowest Taxes in Section, Says Hess

Tells Rotarians of Low Indebtedness and High Standard of Government; Township Treasurer Important Official

The advantages and economies of living in Lower Merion were cited last Tuesday by Peter C. Hess, Township Treasurer, speaking before the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club. He also gave an insight into some of the tasks of his department.

The importance of the job of Township Treasurer, he said, is shown by the fact that he is probably the highest bonded official in the State, the amount being $1,300,000. The State Treasurer files a bond for only $500,000.

All moneys for the township are received by him, and all expenditures go through his hands. This involves the signing of over 18,000 warrants a year.

"In fact," Mr. Hess said, "the Township Treasurer must serve in almost the capacity of comptroller."

The rapid growth of the township was seen in assessment figures for the past six years. They are:

1925	$54,810,000
1926	59,790,000
1927	62,429,000
1928	75,000,000
1929	78,420,000
1930	81,222,000

The actual real estate values, the speaker pointed out, would be at least three times these figures, for the assessment basis is low.

Some interesting figures were presented to show the low tax rate in Lower Merion as compared with other municipalities, and to show also the tendency of the local officials to lower the rate at every opportunity.

It was shown that whereas Lower Merion's total rate for local, school and county taxes was 29 mills, neighboring places are much higher. Radnor pays 31 mills on a higher basis of valuation; Haverford is charged 38; Narberth, 43; Cheltenham, 42; Abington, 42½; Upper Darby, 40.

"And," said Mr. Hess, "Lower Merion residents received more for their money in schools, police, roads, etc., despite the lower rates."

Out of every $100 in taxes taken in the schools get about half, the speaker said. The approximate division of the receipts was explained as follows:

County	$9.92
School Board	49.58
Township Roads	16.72
Public Safety	9.17
Health Protection	.63
Garbage Removal	1.77

Bala-Cynwyd Firemen

Lick Police Team Again

The Bala-Cynwyd Fire Company's baseball team landed hard on the offerings of Fred Walzer, pitching for the Lower Merion-Narberth Police team, and captured the verdict by a 8-6 score. The game was played Tuesday night at the Cynwyd School field.

Many errors on the part of the Cynwyd Firemen let police runs slip across the plate or the margin of victory would have been greater. Cynwyd scored six of its runs in the third inning when Franzen and Zengrel hit for three bases, and Clayton Thomas and Charles Slaw doubled.

This leaves the Union Fire Company of Bala-Cynwyd in undisputed possession of first place in the Police-Firemen League. The Narberth and Ardmore Firemen will clash on the borough field tonight (Friday).

E. A. Muschamp Speaks to Local Rotarians

Finally all the facts were collected on index cards and arranged in order. A first draft—1000 pages of pen-written copy—was prepared. Then constant revision and finally the completed manuscript. But that did not complete the task for there were many proofs to be read and many meetings with his publishers.

"After all," Mr. Muschamp concluded, "any author's best reading matter is made up of critics' reviews, and they will prove anything about your book, since no two agree. If I had realized the enormity of the task perhaps the book would never have been written at all!"

eleven, and, had they been able to send in some of the ten players left on the pathways, the borough club would have held a commanding lead throughout instead of struggling fiercely to keep the lead, which was nullified in the sixth when Manoa tied the score at 5-5.

Johnny Curwin, Harvey Humphries and Ray Young all swung the mace to the rhythm of 1,000. Vernie Fleck batted at a .750 pace and Joe McEntee followed with .500. Fleck's three singles out of four trips to the plate augmented his hitting pace for the year, and also marked the twenty-ninth game in which he has hit with unceasing consistency.

McEntee and Fleck were also the pacemakers in the scoring of runs for the boroughites as each man sent a pair of runs over the disc, while Townsend and Powell contributed the other two.

Narberth assumed the air of pachyderms for the first three frames, getting off to a four-run start, while Graham held the invaders to two bingles without a tally. Two runs in the fourth and three in the sixth from the sum of seven hits sent the score into a deadlock as Fleck's blunder in the outfield resulted in the unnecessary scoring of two runs which went over the pentagon by virtue of his error.

With the count tied in the fifth "Gene" Davis sent his boys to bat in the resident half of the sixth, confident of victory. After Fleck's misjudgment of Adair's hit in left-field in the alien half of the sixth, the Davismen managed to cop the game, profiting by Rudolph's miscue on third base. Curwin relieved Babb in the outfield and in his second appearance in the sixth sliced a hard single to deep centre-field and moved up on Humphries' sacrifice tap to Lemon. Fleck's third nick of the game was another single. Then McEntee sped to first as Rudolph permitted his comber to elude his grip and Curwin scored the sixth and winning point of the fray on the fumble. The visitors were feeble in their effort to spurt on to victory in the alien half of this frame as only four men faced Graham to end hostilities for the evening.

Miniature Golf Breaks Into Coal Business

Miniature golf, the new sport of many fans who can drop from their motors onto an 18-hole course at frequent intervals along any of the main highways, is fast becoming a national pastime. Enthusiasm over the game is splendid bait with which to catch the attention of the public for other purposes, as one Main Line merchant has discovered during the past week. In the window of the Narberth Coal Company is displayed a very picturesque miniature "Tom Thumb" golf course that has been drawing crowds of pressed noses against the pane and scores of excited "ahs" and "ohs" from children and grown-ups alike. One would perhaps wonder at the connection of coal with such a scene, until, after enjoying the cleverly-worked-out details of the course, one's eye chances upon the few lines of print on the background, exploiting the company's product in real golf jargon, and forming a connecting link between the golf scene and its somewhat foreign atmosphere. If you're already a "Tom Thumb" addict, you'll enjoy this window; if not, a gaze at the "model" of this fascinating sport will undoubtedly tempt you to become a follower.
